Maritime Training Center

Our letter of presentation is made up of the thousands of sailors that over the years have had the privilege of training, creating a relationship that has lasted with the passing of the years, and their choice when renewing their certificates by giving us confidence that we are making significant changes in the maritime sector.

We believe in human resource development, we innovate with modern teaching systems, adhering to the provisions of national and international laws and regulations.

We are at the forefront, and we adapt to the requirements of the organizations for which we own, and we understand the need presented in the shipping industry at the international level, the scarcity of trained resources and the availability to impart such training.

We are committed as trainers and facilitators of knowledge, for this reason, we have flexible hours including weekends, to optimize the most valuable resource, including our MPIP Online Learning Center - Online training adding flexibility, learning at your own pace and convenience time.

Maritime Professional Institute of Panama is not a training center anymore, we believe in the training of seafarers, educating them with discipline and honor in accordance with the regulations established by the amended STCW 1978.

MPIP ONLINE LEARNING CENTER

The company provides seafarers with an online educational platform that allows them to remotely and flexibly access the courses required for their training and professional development. This virtual learning environment has been developed to ensure an efficient, secure training experience that is aligned with the quality standards established by the organization. The content is available 24 hours a day, making it easy to complete training programs from any location, adapting to the different operating conditions of personnel on board or in transit.

The platform offers an intuitive interface and teaching resources designed by qualified instructors, allowing for autonomous but structured learning. In addition, assessment tools, individual progress tracking, and digital certificate generation are incorporated, thus contributing to complete traceability of the training process. Access to the platform is granted under personal credentials, in compliance with security and data protection protocols, and always with the informed consent of each user for the processing of their personal information.
